

Kathy Cammett (Soprano/USA)

Kathy Cammett, operates Golden Voice Studio and is Director of Applied Voice and Pedagogy at the Musical Arts Center. She has been a Voice Teacher, Vocologist, and Acting Coach for over 25 years and has worked with hundreds of voices, from rock to musical theatre and opera. Her students have won State and National competitions, been on popular voice shows and record labels, and are accepted into top music and theatre schools in the country, including NYU, Berklee, Indiana, CCM, Boston, Westminster, and more. Current students and alumni are everything from leads in community shows and Broadway tours to leads in international bands. Working mainly online with clients, she centres on singing, performing, and acting as one unified discipline. She filters traditional and current methods from Bel Canto to Speech Level through the lens of modern voice and performance science. She holds a BA (Summa Cum Laude) in Theatre, a BBA, a Masters (With Distinction) in Solo Voice Performance with an emphasis on Vocal Pedagogy, and a Certificate in Vocology via the National Centre of Voice and Speech. She has received additional training in voice habilitation and the use of technology for voice analysis and correction and is the recipient of the Joan Frey Boytim Award via the National Association of Teachers of Singing (NATS). She is a member of NATS, The Voice Foundation, NYSTA and PAVA.
